REGION

Sharing latitudinal pedigree with Gisborne in New Zealand; Sonoma and Napa Valleys in the USA; Mendoza in Argentina; Sicily in Italy and Jerez in Spain, Victoria is the southern-most and coolest State of mainland Australia, famed for its diverse wine regions and cool climate.

Home to Fowles Wine vineyards and winery, the Strathbogie Ranges is characterised by massive granite boulders – the very boulders that have given rise, over millions of years, to the sandy loam soils in which our vines grow.

This is a harsh Australian landscape with soil that is nutrient poor and retains very little water – difficult for farmers to grow livestock, but a wonderful landscape for grape growers seeking to grow fruit with great intensity. Couple these attributes with the cool climate, gentle aspect and glorious summer sunshine and the Strathbogie Ranges is an ideal region for growing grapes and making wine.

The mean January temperature is 19.15°C and the average annual rainfall in our family vineyards is 700 mm (28 inches).

Harvest in the Strathbogie Ranges generally occurs from late February through to early May.

WINEMAKING

The fruit for this wine was harvested during the day between 3 March and 15 March in 2010.

This wine was fermented in high tech sweep-arm fermenters to maximise flavour and colour.

We fermented this wine between 20° to 30° Celsius and in stainless steel tanks to preserve primary fruit flavours. We chose to use a yeast strain called AWRI-796 because it is renowned for helping develop Pinot Noirs with consistently good structure, ripe berry, bright fruit and spicy characteristics.

This wine was matured using new French Oak.

THE WINE

With a dash of Lagrein, this Pinot Noir blushes bright ruby red. Aromas of Morella cherry and cedar play with earthy forest floor characters. Medium to full bodied, the palate is full of cherries leading to a firm finish.
